Thursday.

Dear Harold:

If I could have illustrated your "letter," I would have had enough stories for the next ten issues.

Needless to say (though I'll say it) you were very impressive, and we are impatiently awaiting to see your stuff.

We will expect you Monday afternoon--400 No. Broad St.--7th floor--if possible, try to make it no later than three o'clock.....earlier would be better.....as the editors leave at five sharp to catch trains.

We will pay your expenses for your trip (round-trip from Washington to Philadelphia), and I'm sure that once you talk to my boss, he'll give you the okay to go ahead on the Bata story. So bring up your stuff--material, pictures, photostats, anything you have--and make it good.

Good luck, old boy.....kindest regards,

Marty
